As a candidate for the School of Education, you are expected to:

- Know the requirements of your program
- Track your progress through the program
- Meet all deadlines
- Read and understand the current course catalog and the Secondary Education Handbook. Your academic advisor assists, but is not responsible for, seeing that you meet those expectations.

I have read and understand the requirements of this program:

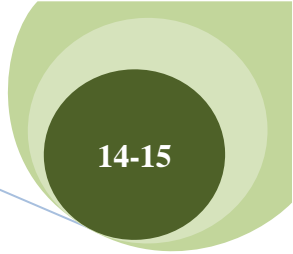

Candidate	Date	Advisor
-----------	------	---------

Advisement Notes:

- Take EDSE 6660: Advanced Studies in Instruction in the first semester it is offered after you begin your program. Use the Professional Development Plan developed in this course as a guide for your program of study and beyond.
- Register for the Capstone Course, EDSE 7788, the last semester of your program.
- Submit your application for graduation before the deadline in the semester BEFORE you expect to graduate.
